THE AUSTRALIAN BALLOT.

The new ballot law of Massachusetts which was enacted last year will go into effect next fall. It is in all essential features, very much like the Australian ballot which has worked each marvelous election reforms in that country. The chief features of the system consists in an arrangement for polling by which compulsory secrecy in voting is secured, and also an official ballot containing the names of all candidates printed and distributed under the state or municipal authority.

The Boston Journal says the new law will revolutionize the election methods in the state, especially in Boston. It then goes on to say that the greatest expense to follow the ballot system and the reduction of wards will come from the more numerous polling places required and the increased cost of fittings. Of the 107 polling places which existed last year more than half of them were in school houses. Others were in ward rooms, police stations and hose engine houses, while of the total only eleven were hired. The expense of fitting up the new polling places in accordance with the requirements of the law will be considerable. Another source of great expense will be the larger number of election officers that will be required.

"Two inspectors, with two deputy inspectors, additional to those now provided for, shall be appointed in each voting precinct," says the law. This will make six election officers to a precinct, in addition to deputies, instead of four, as at present, and the additional number of precincts which are to be provided will give a total of nearly 1,800 officers for the city, instead of a little over 400. There is the printing of three hundred thousand ballots. While the state looks after this work for the state election, "the printing of the ballots and cards of instruction to voters shall in municipal elections in cities be paid for by the several cities, respectively." The city has to pay for the distribution of the ballots to the voters, vote peddling by local political workers being done away with, and it will have to furnish an extra number of policemen for duty at the polls. Even the seats for the new ballot-boxes cost considerably, for they cost about $1 each and nearly 200 more will be needed. The total expense in Boston will not be far from $100,000 instead of about $14,000 last year.

No one has any doubt that the law is a good one in the line of working reform in elections, but it is thought that the enormous expense attending the system will make it unpopular among the masses who think economy in election methods is quite as important as fair elections.

MISS BUSHNELL'S SLANDERS.

A dispatch from Madison says that George W. Reinhard, editor of a news paper at Williamsport, Pennsylvania, has come west for the purpose of investigating the den question. The dispatch says:

He came to Wisconsin about ten days ago and has since been visiting northern Wisconsin and inspecting some of the dives of which Miss Bushnell furnished him a list. He is in Madison in order to look over some of the evidence obtained by Gov. Rusk. Mr. Reinhard expressed himself as having been very agreeably surprised with the state of Wisconsin, and as far as the dives were concerned, he had been unable to find such terrible places as had been described to him. Miss Bushnell had told him that his life was not safe if he visited the dives, but he had found a very mild set of people. Mr. Reinhard's experience is but a repetition of that of all others who have gone in search of these horrors.

He found the dives, but could not see that any iniquities worse than those perpetrated all over the world were in existence there. He believes that Miss Bushnell is sincere in her efforts, but that she has taken too much on herself, and, as a woman, was unable to, or, at least, did not make a thorough investigation. Mr. Reinhard will publish in his paper the result of his observations in northern Wisconsin.

There have been a good many others beside Mr. Reinhard, who have been deceived by Miss Bushnell. There is no doubt that Miss Bushnell is largely influenced by mercenary motives in all she says and does in regard to the so called dives in this state. She lectures on the den question, charges an admission fee, and while filling her purse with money she slanders Wisconsin. It is first cousin to a crime to fill the minds of people with falsehoods touching such a serious subject. But the people in the east are easily influenced by the talk of such a woman as Miss Bushnell. People are prone to believe the worst stories that can be manufactured in regard to such sensational matters, and Miss Bushnell knows this, and therefore is all the more reckless and daring in her sensational lectures.

But it is strange that a newspaper like the Chicago Advance, should be seduced into believing that all Miss Bushnell says is true, and that Wisconsin is a cursed state. Almost under the shadow of the Advance (Chicago) papers, the reports in the Chicago papers are half true, are far worse crimes being committed than in any part of northern Wisconsin, and yet the Advance has not a word to say against them.

A Washington dispatch says that the "house of representatives has thrown New Mexico out of its omnibus territorial bill, and is in a fair way to agree to the admission of south Dakota by proclamation under the Sioux Falls constitution, with provisions for the early admission by proclamation of North Dakota, Montana, and Washington. This will be going clear across the line to meet the senate and will insure territorial legislation at this session of congress. Nothing but the pressure of party can now change this program, which completely upsets the democratic conspiracy against the territories. The action of the house to day was a stunning setback to the democratic territorial managers. McMillin, Breckinridge, and Springer were all surprised at the manner in which a number of their party friends went back on them. It has taken the democratic congress a long time to come to its senses. But then it is just like a democratic majority in congress. It never wakes up to a sense of fairness in time to take any credit to itself.

Mr. Henry M. Stark, of Milwaukee, who has been confirmed by the senate as commissioner of labor statistics, is a cousin of Mr. Alfred McDougall, of Janesville, and was born in New Jersey. His father died when Henry was seven or eight years old. Young Stark was hardly half way through his teens when the war broke out. He was a patriotic little fellow, and came to Janesville to enlist in the Thirteenth regiment. His youthful years, and the fact that he was an only son, and his mother needing him, Mr. McDougall wisely thought the boy should not enlist at that time. But when Henry met with this opposition, he went to Fond du Lac and enlisted in the Eighteenth United States battery, and he had not been in the service long before he lost a foot in an engagement, which, of course, prevented him from doing any more service in the army. Mr. Stark is well fitted for the office of commissioner of statistics. He has a bright intellect, has enterprise and industry, and will perform the duties of the office with credit to himself and advantage to the state.

Without the native wisdom, the political sagacity and knowledge, the infinite patience, serene courage, and pervasive patriotism of Abraham Lincoln it is at least doubtful whether the Union could have withstood the shock of civil war. The republic never had a more useful ruler nor one more truly devoted to its highest good than was the martyr president. "He was," says Lowell, "so pre-eminently a representative man that when he spoke it seemed as if the people were listening to their own thinking aloud." The nation will honor and eulogize itself in perpetuating the memory of Lincoln.—New York World.

This does not sound much like the democratic talk about Abraham Lincoln during the war. Then he was a "usurper," and a "tyrant," and all that. This shows how slow and stubborn the democrats are in dismissing their prejudice and in accepting the truth.

Will the New York Sun, which never misses an opportunity to shower its praise on the late Mr. Tilden, read the following from that good and accepted democratic journal, the Charleston News and Courier: "The indiscriminate praise of the late Samuel J. Tilden has burst out afresh. His panegyrics are not content to laud for what he was not. Mr. Tilden had no courage whatever in politics, and if he was not actively engaged in efforts to buy electoral votes in South Carolina and in Florida in 1876-77, he was misrepresented in a most shocking manner by his political and personal relatives and friends."

The following table, compiled by the New York Commercial Bulletin, shows the amount of money in circulation at the beginning of the present month compared with one month before and one year ago:

	Feb. 1, 1889.	Feb. 1, 1888.
Gold coins.....	$80,116,365	$80,091,922
Silver coins.....	$2,741,881	$2,095,977
Subsidiary silver.....	$2,440,119	$1,325,969
United States notes.....	$13,086,792	$14,834,974
State bank notes.....	$24,337,438	$20,321,533
U. S. notes.....	$17,234,138	$22,665,547
National bank notes.....	$12,259,720	$20,095,424
Total.....	$148,916,452	$142,435,466

It will be seen from this table that there was more money in circulation in this country than ever before known—$25,000,000 more than on February 1, 1888, and it amounted to $90,000,000 more than on February 1, 1887.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Senator Spooner is reported to be the next prominent pilgrim to Indianapolis. He will leave Washington later in the week, and it is expected that he will impress upon General Harrison the availability of Governor Rusk of Wisconsin, as secretary of war in the cabinet of the incoming president.

There are a good many public men as well as numerous newspapers that think that Governor Rusk is the coming man for the war department. It certainly does look more like Rusk than anybody else.

The New York Star, democratic, says that the 4th of March will bring relief to the democrats, for the republicans can then run things to suit themselves. This is like whistling through a grave yard.

The Mecca of this country is Indianapolis. The pilgrims who are willing to serve their country in an official capacity are turning their faces toward this American Mecca, and they are legion.

CHICAGO TO CALIFORNIA Without Change of Cars. The Santa Fe Route is now running a Pullman Vestibule Sleeping Car from Chicago to San Diego, via Los Angeles, without change. The train leaves Dearborn Station, Chicago, every night at 11 o'clock. This is a great attraction and an unequalled accommodation for passengers. Office, 212 Clark street, corner Adams.

THE WISCONSIN LEGISLATURE.

Report of the Joint Committee on the Northern Wisconsin Dens.

The Wisconsin Legislature Will Attend the Presidential Inauguration.

Some of the Important Bills Introduced in the Two Houses To-Day.

Special to the Gazette.

MADISON, Feb. 15th.—The committee on state affairs to whom was referred the joint resolution providing for legislative investigation into the alleged houses of prostitution in northern Wisconsin, made a lengthy report this morning against the same. The committee say, in substance, that the reports have been grossly exaggerated; that the charge of cruelty on the part of the keepers or previous innocence of the inmates, are not substantiated by any evidence presented to the committee. The governor has diligently urged action on the part of the local officers; that to complain has been made against any delinquent officers; had complaint been made to the proper authority, the committee are confident that the governor would have promptly removed any delinquent officer. The committee, in closing their report, recommend the application of the old adage "Physician, heal thyself," and end by saying "Looking with indignity at the alleged crimes from one to ten hundred miles distant, through glasses that magnify a thousand fold, will not benefit humanity half as much as a disposition to correct the immoral, licentious and criminal condition of their own immediate localities."

Among the new bills introduced in the assembly this morning are providing for state bank examiners.

Prohibiting the use of pasters, or printed slips on election tickets.

Resolution to adjourn March 1st to 7th to allow members to attend the inauguration was concurred in.

In the senate among the bills introduced:

Punishing crime of kid-napping by extending the term of imprisonment as now provided from 5 to 10 years.

To fix compensation of state veterinarian at ten dollars per day for actual time with necessary expenses, such money to be paid out of the treasury of the town or city in which he is called upon to act.

Requiring building and loan associations to deposit $100,000 in installments of $25,000 each, with the state treasurer and for performing other obligations before doing business.

Promptness.

CALUMET AND HECLA ON FIRE.

Another Blaze Started in Shaft No. 3 Causes the Owners Much Anxiety.

MARQUETTE, Mich., Feb. 15.—The fire that started in shaft No. 3 of the Calumet and Hecla mine has broken out afresh and there is no telling how serious it will prove. It is not so deep as the first outbreak, but a heavy volume of smoke is issuing, indicating a bad blaze below. The mine agent and officials will express no opinion, as none can be expressed until the shafts are being hauled and the old process of smothering is being pursued. It is a fresh outbreak of the last fire, which was supposed to be out. It is thought that the opening of the shafts has fanned the fire into a flame.

Big Fire in a Manitoba Town.

WINNIPEG, Man., Feb. 15.—A destructive fire visited Brandon Wednesday night. Losses and insurance are as follows: Masonic block, value $20,000; insured $8,000; a total loss. The mail building, value $2,000; insurance $1,000; total loss. A. C. Fraser's store, value $10,000; insured $10,000; total loss. Postoffice, value $1,000; insured $500; total loss. Mail plant, value $4,000; insured $6,300; total loss. Cliff's book store, stock $4,000; insured $2,500. Canada Northwest land building damaged to the extent of $300, insured. Queen's Hotel, damage $300, insured.

Crazed by Cruel Treatment.

HOBOKEN, N. J., Feb. 15.—Sophia Buck, aged 30, living on the second floor of a tenement at Grand street, became suddenly insane this morning and threw her 7-months old babe out of a window, fatally injuring the child. The mother was placed under arrest. She was abandoned by her husband, who left her ill and destitute, and while brooding over her pitiable condition her reason gave way.

Secretary Vilas' Brother a Judge.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 15.—Under the act recently passed by the Legislature creating two new judgeships for this district, Gov. Morrill to-day appointed Col. C. D. Kerr, Republican, and Levi M. Vilas, Democrat. The last named is a brother of Secretary of the Interior Vilas and a resident of St. Paul only two years.

FRANCE IN A DILEMMA.

M. FLOUQUET'S CABINET RESIGNS.

Their Action a Great Surprise—Boulangier Issues a Manifesto—Parnell's Letters Exhibited.

PARIS, Feb. 15.—When the question of the revision of the constitution came up in the Chamber of Deputies to-day Count Duval Maillet moved that the debate on the subject be adjourned.

Notwithstanding the opposition of the Government, the motion was adopted by a vote of 307 to 218.

Premier Floquet thereupon announced that the ministry would immediately resign.

The resignation of the ministry was a complete surprise to the chamber. M. Floquet had said nothing implying an intention to make a motion to adjourn a cabinet question. Both the left and the right were unaware how the ministry would regard the vote.

The majority included the members of the right and a number of the opportunists. After the adjournment the left and the extreme left held a meeting and sent delegates to M. Floquet to express regret at the fall of the cabinet and congratulate the retiring premier upon the firmness of the position that he had assumed.

President Carnot, after the ministers had tendered their resignations, sent for M. Milne, the president of the Chamber of Deputies, and subsequently had a conference with M. Leroy, president of the Senate.

A rumor was current this afternoon that M. Milne had been asked to form a cabinet, and in a night it is said that President Carnot has not yet instructed him one with the task.

Boulangier Issues a Manifesto.

Gen. Boulanger issued a passive spectator of the proceedings in the chamber of deputies. Immediately after the adjournment he issued a manifesto to the electors of the department of the Seine. In this he claims credit for his party for the overthrow of a discredited ministry that was attempting to ensure the country by the comedy of a proposal to revise the constitution which if passed by the chamber the ministry well known would be rejected by the senate. "He proceeds:

"We would not allow the cabinet thus to deceive universal suffrage and to consecrate its usurpation by doing the work of a constituent assembly. The fall of its ill-omened ministry, which had already planned by laws for the restriction of liberty, will be a relief to the public conscience. It is a step further toward a dissolution of the chamber and convocation of a constituent assembly."

After the vote on the scrutiny d'arrondissement bill, in April, 1887, there was nothing more than a blow dealt universal suffrage, the electoral period has commenced. It is for the country to speak. Vive la republique."

MR. PARNELL'S LETTERS.

The "Times" Produces Them Before the Commission.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—The Parnell commission has finally reached the celebrated Parnell letters. Mr. Soames, the solicitor for the Times, to-day produced five letters, including the photographic fac simile of the one printed by that paper. Mr. Soames testified that the letters were submitted to an expert in April, 1887. Before that genuine specimens of Parnell's writing were collected and other specimens have since been collected. Witness submitted genuine specimens of Mr. Parnell's signature, some of which had been obtained since the fac simile was published, including letters and summonses which Parnell signed as magistrate, orders of admission to the House of Commons, a paragraph written for a newspaper, and the Kilmainham jail-book, which contained nine signatures, the first written in December, 1881, and the last in May, 1882. Witness was advised by Mr. Inglis, the expert, before the fac simile was published. Soames said he believed the body of the letter was in the handwriting of Campbell, Mr. Parnell's secretary, while the signature was Parnell's.

Brander Recalled from Samoa.

AKA, New Zealand, Feb. 15.—The latest news from Samoa says that there has been no change in the situation since the last report. There has been no fighting, and Tannase and Mataafa remain in their strongholds. The British consul has warned the British subjects not to supply natives with arms and to maintain strict neutrality. The British warship Calliope has replaced the warship Royalist. The German and American warships remain stationary. Herr Brander, the leading partisan of Tannase, has been recalled to Berlin.

Further Rioting at Pesth.

PESTH, Feb. 15.—The students' agitation against the army bill was continued to-day. The military closed the streets after a free fight had taken place between the mob and the police. Many persons were seriously wounded and a number were arrested. The lower house of the Diet approved the provisions of the army bill up to clause 8, rejecting various proposed amendments. There will be a monster students' demonstration against the military bill on Sunday next.

De Lesseps' Latest Scheme.

PARIS, Feb. 15.—M. de Lesseps has addressed a circular to the stockholders of the Panama Canal company informing them that new securities will be issued to obtain capital to continue work on the canal. Stockholders who hold three shares will have a right to call for one new bond of the nominal bond of 500 francs, bearing interest at 3 per cent. The price of the bond will be 410 francs. The subscription opens March 1 and closes March 9.

A Disabled Steamer.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—The Belgian steamer Olibry, Capt. Gregory, from New York, Feb. 2, for Liverpool, arrived at Queensdown to-day, having in tow the Cunard line steamer Samaria. The Samaria sailed from Liverpool for Boston, and on Feb. 10, when 400 miles west of Queenstown, she broke her shaft. On Feb. 13 she was taken in tow by the Olibry.

Northern France Affected by a Strike.

PARIS, Feb. 15.—A strike has begun in the north of France and is assuming large proportions. The principal industrial centers in the northern departments are affected. The Socialists are at the bottom of the movement and are very active among the working classes, stirring up and spreading agitation.

Parnell Very Ill.

DUBLIN, Feb. 14.—The Evening Mail says it hears that Parnell's health has developed a very serious turn, and that his relatives entertain fears for his recovery.

"And there was a mask ball that night," yes and they kept it up pretty lively until morning. You see they weren't afraid of the early frost—knowing that all the druggists keep supplied with Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, the old reliable stand-by.

VILLAINOUS BARN-BURNERS.

Daring Acts of Incendiarism in Pennsylvania and Maryland.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 15.—The barn of D. Henry Riemann, in Adams county, Pa., near Emmittsburg, Md., was destroyed by fire of incendiary origin early Wednesday morning. The loss was $7,000; insured for $4,600 in the Agricultural Insurance company, of Waterbury, N. Y. The property destroyed was in line of the dozen more barns mysteriously burned recently on the border of Frederick and Carroll counties, Maryland, and the fire is believed to have been the work of the same miscreants who have become such a terror to the farming community of that section.

The instrument usually used in setting fire to the barns is the size of two flats, and covered with wet phosphorus. In the center of this ball was an opening the size of an egg, and filled with powder, into which was stuck a quill, for the purpose, it is thought, of preventing absorption of moisture, and thus keeping the powder dry. This device is placed in some secluded place and when the phosphorus dries ignition follows and an explosion of the powder, which completes the work.

The barn-burners, who are evidently as thoroughly organized as the White Caps or Bald-Knobsers of the West, if not to numerous, are evidently extending their field of operations. They began their nefarious work last summer in Wareham township, York county, Pa., near the Maryland line. They displayed no discrimination in the selection of barns to which they applied their mysterious torches. The rich and poor, Democrat and Republican, foreigner and native, none were spared and all share alike. Vigilance committees were as powerless to lead them as the large rewards offered by the suffering insurance companies were to bring the burners to justice.

BURNED HER TO DEATH.

A Horrible Crime in Havana, in Which a Girl Lost Her Life.

HAVANA, Cuba, Feb. 15.—Dolores Cordova, a mulatto girl, was walking along San Miguel street last evening when a colored man began making love to her. She rejected his attentions, upon which he poured a can of petroleum over her, saturating her completely from head to foot. She ran, crying for help, to the residence of an acquaintance near by, but the man was too quick for her and seized her. He lit a match and set fire to her clothes. The girl ran out to the middle of the street, where the police and neighbors tore her clothes off, but too late to save her life. She was conveyed on a litter to her home, where she died in terrible agony. The perpetrator of the crime made good his escape. No one knows who he is.

Expert Sage Burglars at Decatur.

DECATUR, Ill., Feb. 15.—A supposed burglar proof safe at Fred Littler's store was broken open last night without the use of powder and robbed of a sum of money. The new method of safe-breaking is a surprise to the police. A hole was drilled directly above the combination lock and the connection rod inside was found cut squarely in two, as if with a pair of shears, thus making it an easy matter to throw back the bolts.

Man Sate Gets a Life Sentence.

MAJON, Ind., Feb. 15.—John Sago, charged with aiding and abetting the murder of Harry Albert Cunningham, the illegitimate 2-year-old son of Eliza Cunningham, seven years ago, was found guilty of murder in the first degree here and his punishment was fixed at life imprisonment.
